Last summer he was with the publicity bureau of the Jamestown Exposition, but was dropped by Director General Barr, when that force was cut down.

He left here two weeks ago with a relative of Mrs. Knight, and his family thought he was in Seattle, Wash. Mrs. Knight secured a partial divorce at Charlottesville last week from J. W. Knight, who was said to be a railway man in Philadelphia, the ground being abandonment. The story appearing in New York papers has caused a mild sensation here, where Percival is well known. The woman is a native of Lynchburg, but removed to Washington with her parents fifteen years ago.

WRANGLING LONG AND SENT REPORT BACK

Going anything to get rid of it. To the Finance Committee, he said, it was a more serious matter than the one which he was asked to report on. "I am not," he said with some feeling, "to say that the Finance Committee has not violated the charter of the city in making up the budget."

Denied He Was Counsel. Mr. Davis objected to this line of argument. He said Mr. Cannon was reopening the case, in which evidence had been taken, and that the Finance Committee should be read. He added that Mr. Cannon had appeared as counsel for the Finance Committee. Mr. Cannon denied this. Mr. Davis answered that he had. Mr. Davis and Mr. W. L. White thought Mr. Cannon was casting reflections on the Finance Committee. Chairman Richardson suggested at this juncture that the question of the legality of the next budget be tested.

Mr. Cannon then proceeded, saying that it was the duty of Mayor McCarthy not to sign the budget, and that it was his duty to get the accountants to call attention to the failure to observe the charter. Mr. Richardson interrupted with the statement that Mr. Cannon was getting away from the text to criticize the question.

The same fight, however, will come up again unless somebody chooses it off.

Jumped on Tax Collector. Apart from the work outlined above, the Council delayed consideration of the trolley bill, and then Mr. Davis and Mr. W. L. White thought Mr. Cannon was casting reflections on the Finance Committee. Chairman Richardson suggested at this juncture that the question of the legality of the next budget be tested.

Councilman Barber, for instance, said that the Danville accounts, recently received, showed a 99 percent of the total tax levy had been collected. Councilman Lynch thought that as the City Tax Collector was no more than a receiver of the money, as well as being a collector, and the amounts due the city taken in by the Treasurer. After an hour's wrangle, the Council voted to take a vote of 18 to 12, on the principle that there is no spending good money in trying to collect bad debts.

DELAY VOTE ON ELECTROLYSIS

Council to Take Up Matter of Double Overhead Trolley System in December.

Without reading the majority or minority reports, sent from the Joint Council Committee, which has been investigating the damage from electrolysis for the past ten years, the Council on last night delayed consideration of the matter until December. The report, which is being prepared, will be published for the information of members.

Mr. Cannon moved that it be laid on the table, printed and taken up again. The action was carried, Mr. Cannon's motion being carried.

The Minority Report. The substance of the majority report was printed in The Times-Dispatch. The minority report, which was signed by Messrs. Barber, Dabney, Mann, Gies, David Meade White and Mills. Practically the full text follows:

The report of the majority was prepared and agreed upon by certain members of the Joint Council Committee prior to the meeting of the Council on October 1, 1907, and the recommendations therein contained were known to the undersigned, and that we have the opportunity to carefully study the recommendations contained in the majority report, and we deem an unqualified dissent.

Especially shall be taken into consideration the fact that only a bare majority of each of the two committees of the Joint Council Committee, the minority report, having had time to study the report, and the recommendations therein contained, and we deem an unqualified dissent.

It is a well known fact, and undenied by the city of Richmond, that there has been serious damage done to the water pipes of the city, amounting to thousands of dollars. These two committees, however, under separate (and separate) reference to be fairly adjudged by the city, and the city has been freed to bring suit for damages in the collection of any claim for damages is attended with

PRESIDENT FOR DUTY-FREE PAPER

He Will Recommend Repeal of Tariff on That and Wood Pulp.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 7.—President Roosevelt to-day indicated to members of the committee on paper of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, that he will recommend to Congress the abolition of the tariff on press paper, wood pulp and the wood that goes into the manufacture of paper, also that he will make a recommendation to the Department of Justice that it take immediate steps to ascertain whether the anti-trust laws are being disobeyed by the manufacturers of paper.

The promise of the recommendations by the President was obtained after he had listened to the report of the members of the committee and a petition from the National Organization of Printers, Stereotypers, Pressmen and others, all of which set forth the evidence of a combination on the part of the manufacturers of paper for the purpose of controlling the output of the paper, and thereby keeping the price and otherwise making hindrance regulations governing the source of supply and delivery of paper. The call upon the President was adopted by the American Newspaper Publishers' Association at a special meeting held in New York September 19th last. The committee which called on the President by appointment included John Norris, of the New York Tribune; Merrill McCormick, of the Chicago Tribune; Delevan, of the St. Paul Dispatch; Delevan, of the Indianapolis News; John East, of the Chicago Journal; Walter Page, of the World's Work; E. J. Ridgway and the presidents of the national organizations of the allied printing trades.

Western Union Has Many Applications from Its Old Employees. NEW YORK, November 7.—Following the official calling off of the telephone men, the Western Union company, crowded with applicants to-day, who sought to regain their old positions, according to its statement, brought its force up to the original quota Tuesday.

About 200 former employees of the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company applied for their old places in the company's main office in this city and in the local offices, and nothing for them; that all vacancies had been filled.

COURT DENIES INJUNCTION

Judge Waddell Declines to Restrict Sale of Exposition Bonds. NORFOLK, VA., November 7.—Federal Judge Waddell to-day denied the application for an injunction restraining the disposition, except under order of court, of the $200,000 unnegotiated bonds of the Jamestown Exposition Company, which were being sold on the ground that there was no necessity at this time for such an injunction. This leaves the bankers' committee, in whose hands the $200,000 bonds remain, to negotiate or dispose of them.

The court held that the notice and process of his suit sufficiently protected John Monk, the plaintiff, who, holding an alleged claim of $17,000 against the Exposition on contract building work, sought to enjoin the disposition of the $200,000 in bonds.

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Brokers Win Suit Against North Carolina Customer, and Recover Over $1,800.

BEING HEARD FIVE DAYS

Manchester Bureau Times-Dispatch. No. 1102 Hull Street. Late yesterday afternoon the jury in the case of Mottou & Co. vs. J. A. Davis, brought in a verdict for the plaintiffs in the sum of $1,848.25.

The suit was the result of a cotton transaction between Mr. Davis and Mottou & Co. Mr. Davis had been buying and selling cotton on margins, and that the transactions had been made through Messrs. Mottou & Co., of Norfolk. It was shown that Mr. Davis refused to put up margins when called upon to do so, and having sold at a loss, the brokers took action to recover. On interesting feature of the case was the fact that the transactions did not occur in Manchester, and that the defendant in the case was a resident of North Carolina and the brokers residents of Norfolk.

Mr. Davis received the notice of the suit while attending the reunion in June. He was stopping in Manchester, and, therefore, the case was heard here.

The hearing began on Saturday. The jury was sworn in at 10 o'clock and a verdict was reached. The lawyers made vigorous fights, and the attorneys for the defense endeavored to show that the case was a gamble, and that the money could not be recovered.

Mr. Davis was represented by Mr. Charles T. Brown, of this city, and James Mullon, of Richmond. The plaintiff was represented by Messrs. Kent Rawley and Overton Howard, of Richmond, and an attorney from North Carolina. It is probable that the attorneys for the defendant will appeal the case to the Supreme Court of Virginia.

TO PRETENDERS.

A Wholesome Word for Guidance.

Just a word to you, "Collies", and other glaring examples of Modern Yellow Journalism and Cigarettes.

Environment gives you a view-point from which it is difficult to understand that some people even nowadays act from motives of old-fashioned honesty.

There are honest makers of foods and healthful beverages, and there are honest people who use them.

Perhaps you are trained to believe there is no honesty in this world. There is, although you may not be of a kind to understand it.

Some of you have been trained in a sorry class of pretenders, but your training does not blind the old-fashioned person trained without knowledge of pretense and deceit.

These letters came to us absolutely without solicitation. We have a great many thousands from people who have been helped or entirely healed by following the suggestions to quit the food or drink which may be causing the physical complaints and change to Postum Coffee or Grape-Nuts food.

You are not intelligent enough to know the technical reasons why the change makes a change in the cells of the body. Your knowledge, or lack of knowledge, makes not the slightest difference to us.

You can print from old and worn plates all the cheap books your presses will produce, and sell them as best you can, but such acts and your "learned" editorials are but commercial trick only "dollars," and much by pretence.

When you branch out into food values you become only ridiculous. Stick to what you know. The field may be small, but it is safe.

This letter is from the President of the "Christian Nation," a worthy Christian paper of New York:

New York, Oct. 2, 1907. Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

I am, this morning, in receipt of the enclosed thirty good letters from one of my subscribers, which I forward to you, and which I am sure you will be glad to use. I am personally acquainted with this lady, and know that she has no object in writing, other than to do good.

Cordially, John W. Pritchard, Pres.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 1, 1907. Dear Mr. Pritchard:

Nothing Postum Food Coffee advertised each week in your reliable paper, I concluded to try it, and feeling it a duty towards those who may have suffered as I have from indigestion, desire to state what wonderful benefit I have derived from Postum Food Coffee, using only a part time, and not only at I alone realize and appreciate its good effects, but friends remark, "How much I have improved and how well I look!" and I tell the facts about Postum every time I am dining, and I have not had one attack of indigestion. It is invigorating, healthful, does not affect the nerves as ordinary coffee, and if properly made, a most delicious drink. Although I have not had much faith in general advertising, yet, feeling Postum has done so much better for me than I expected, I am more inclined to "Prove all things, hold fast that which is good." I am so thankful for good health that I want to know what a blessing Postum has been to me. If you to desire, and my name also.

Very truly yours, Anna S. Reeves, 215 McDonald St., Brooklyn.
